

Streamline Business and Technology for the Benefit of Customers and Staff

About Us!

Emergent Consulting is an Australian management consulting firm that was founded in 2015. Our team has a significant breadth and depth of experience.

We're passionate about improving organisations to make life better for your clients - and your staff. We work alongside our clients to gain a deep understanding of how the organisation operates and engage with stakeholders throughout the organisation for a full, widescreen view of where they are.

The changes we enable encompass strategy, technology, client experience, staff experience, business intelligence, continuous improvement, and change management.

Aged care and disability care are our major focus. We assist providers in successfully implementing change and transformation themselves.
